CREATIVE LABS

I am a front end developer for UCLA Creative Labs, which works on quarterly projects ranging from mobile apps to web experiences. Last quarter I worked on an interactive narrative (WIP) online at uclacreativelabs.github.io/a-day-in-la.

RELEAF DESIGNER

I designed the business profile interface for Releaf, a data company designed to connect investors with businesses in Nigeria. Prototypes for their web interface can be viewed at wongbryan.design

PERSONAL PROJECTS

I worked on several personal web projects outside of school. These include a visual project centered around pineapples in pop culture and a short feature on two musical artists.

BRUIN ADTEAM

Bruin Adteam is a marketing team that competes in the annual National Student Advertising Competition (NSAC). I'm on the design subteam and make both print and digital advertisements (including banners, billboards and pop-up ads). Books can be viewed at issuu.com/bruinadteam

THE HOOFPRIINT

The Hoofprint is a nationally award-winning news magazine based in Walnut, California. Skills I learned include: editorial design, vector art/illustrations, and infographic design. Online at issuu.com/whshoofprint

CREATIVE LABS

I created a branding booklet for UCLA Creative Labs, a club that serves as a platform for developers, designers and creatives from all skill levels to work together on projects. This project can be viewed on my behance profile at <https://www.behance.net/bryanw0ng5b23>
